SECTION 02 / LEARNER GUIDE

Real Estate Terms Glossary

Build the vocabulary needed to follow property, title, financing, and transaction conversations without guessing.

Use this guide while watching, practicing, and reviewing. Write notes in your own words, then confirm live procedures against the current SOP.

Learning objectives

- Define core property and transaction terms
- Distinguish ARV, MAO, equity, and assignment
- Recognize title and foreclosure concepts
- Ask for clarification when a term affects a seller

Key ideas

- Terms are tools for understanding, not jargon to impress sellers
- Translate technical language into plain English
- Never guess about legal or title questions
- Use the current deal record as the source for property facts

Practice and reflection

- Explain the main idea of Real Estate Terms Glossary without reading a script.
- Name one behavior you can demonstrate in your next seller or team interaction.
- Write one question you still need a manager or current SOP to answer.
- Record the next action you will take and when you will take it.

Source of truth	Current written SOP, role sheet, offer letter, and manager direction control when live procedures or role terms differ from training.

Quick review

Use these prompts for retrieval practice. Answer first, then compare your response with the guide.

1. A home in rough physical shape - or owned by someone going through a hard life situation - is called what?

A distressed property

2. Which of these describe an off-market property? (Select all that apply)

Not publicly listed for sale anywhere; No real estate agent involved; The owner may not have even decided to sell yet

3. An expired listing - a property that was listed but never sold - can be a great lead because the seller is often frustrated and more motivated.

True

4. A house that has sat on the MLS for 200 days is a sign the seller may be getting desperate to get rid of it.

True

5. Transferring your rights in a purchase agreement to another buyer is called what?

An assignment of contract

6. In seller financing, the seller acts as the bank and receives payments directly from the buyer over time.

True

Manager review notes