

Welcome and Mindset

Learn the BMH Group service standard and the mindset that keeps seller conversations clear, calm, and human.

Use this guide while watching, practicing, and reviewing. Write notes in your own words, then confirm live procedures against the current SOP.

Learning objectives

- Explain the Navigator role
- Put service before pressure
- Use curiosity and clarity in seller conversations
- Detach from outcomes while staying accountable

Key ideas

- The goal is an aligned decision, not a forced yes
- Listen for the seller's real problem before discussing a solution
- Treat repetition as practice that creates calm
- A respectful no is better than a pressured agreement

Practice and reflection

- Explain the main idea of Welcome and Mindset without reading a script.
- Name one behavior you can demonstrate in your next seller or team interaction.
- Write one question you still need a manager or current SOP to answer.
- Record the next action you will take and when you will take it.

Source of truth

Current written SOP, role sheet, offer letter, and manager direction control when live procedures or role terms differ from training.

Quick review

Use these prompts for retrieval practice. Answer first, then compare your response with the guide.

1. Beyond the day-to-day job, what is the BMH Group's mission?

Helping families overcome difficult situations and move forward with clarity and certainty

2. What is the core 'tool' BMH uses to give homeowners speed and certainty?

Buying houses for cash, as-is

3. What does the script give a rep? (Select all that apply)

Structure; Confidence; A clear path through every conversation

4. What is the most powerful skill a rep can develop?

Leading a homeowner to the best possible path for their situation - even if it isn't BMH's path

5. Under the 'guide, not buyer' mindset, what should a rep focus on winning?

Clarity for the seller, not the property

6. What does opening with the seller's problem - instead of property specs - accomplish? (Select all that apply)

It earns trust; It gets to real motivation fast
