

SECTION 01 / LEARNER GUIDE

Welcome and Mindset

Learn the BMH Group service standard and the mindset that keeps seller conversations clear, calm, and human.

Use this guide while watching, practicing, and reviewing. Write notes in your own words, then confirm live procedures against the current SOP.

Learning objectives

- Explain the BMH service standard
- Put service before pressure
- Use curiosity and clarity in seller conversations
- Detach from outcomes while staying accountable

Key ideas

- The goal is an aligned decision, not a forced yes
- Listen for the seller's real problem before discussing a solution
- Treat repetition as practice that creates calm
- A respectful no is better than a pressured agreement

Practice and reflection

- Explain the main idea of Welcome and Mindset without reading a script.
- Name one behavior you can demonstrate in your next seller or team interaction.
- Write one question you still need a manager or current SOP to answer.
- Record the next action you will take and when you will take it.

Source of truth

Current written SOP, role sheet, offer letter, and manager direction control when live procedures or role terms differ from training.

Quick review

Use these prompts for retrieval practice. Answer first, then compare your response with the guide.

1. How does the BMH Group define its mission beyond just performing a job?

To help families overcome difficult situations and move forward with clarity and certainty.

2. What distinguishes the sellers BMH works with from those in traditional real estate?

They are often in the middle of hard life moments like foreclosure, loss, or property distress.

3. What is the primary technical 'tool' BMH uses to provide speed and certainty to homeowners?

Buying houses for cash in as-is condition.

4. Beyond structure and confidence, what is the ultimate purpose of the provided script?

To give a clear path through every conversation.

5. According to the training, when should an exceptional rep set the script aside?

When they need to listen, slow down, or be present with the seller.

6. What is the primary goal of a BMH rep during a conversation with a distressed seller?

To lead the homeowner to the best possible path for their specific situation.
