

Compensation Engine

Understand that compensation depends on the value a role owns and that the current written plan is always the source of truth.

Use this guide while watching, practicing, and reviewing. Write notes in your own words, then confirm live procedures against the current SOP.

Learning objectives

- Identify the current compensation source of truth
- Connect role outcomes to the role scorecard
- Know where to take compensation questions
- Avoid relying on another person's plan or an old example

Key ideas

- There is no universal formula for every role
- Use your current offer letter, written plan, or role sheet
- Ask your manager when any part of the plan is unclear
- Do not treat training examples or conversations as a compensation promise

Practice and reflection

- Explain the main idea of Compensation Engine without reading a script.
- Name one behavior you can demonstrate in your next seller or team interaction.
- Write one question you still need a manager or current SOP to answer.
- Record the next action you will take and when you will take it.

Source of truth

Current written SOP, role sheet, offer letter, and manager direction control when live procedures or role terms differ from training.

Quick review

Use these prompts for retrieval practice. Answer first, then compare your response with the guide.

1. What are the three components of the compensation structure described in the text?

Base pay, commissions, and appointment bonuses.

2. What type of pay is provided to representatives during their ramp period?

An hourly base rate.

3. Why is a base hourly rate provided to representatives during the ramp period?

To ensure income while the representative is learning and developing their pipeline.

4. How many consecutive days must a representative hit their KPIs to graduate from the ramp period?

$30$ or more consecutive days.

5. To what structure does a representative graduate after successfully completing the ramp period?

The full commission structure.

6. Which specific actions must a representative take on a lead to be eligible for a commission?

Source, qualify, follow up, and provide a clean handoff.

Manager review notes
